SENATOR BURTON'S RESIGNATION IS EXPECTED TO BE ANNOUNCED TODAY

THUS AVOIDS EXPULSION SAVES EMBARRASSMENT

BE HANDED TO GOVERNOR OF KAN.

Unanimous Consent for Consideration of Smoot's Case at Fixed Date is Prevented by Objection of Teller of Colorado.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, in making a verbal report on the committee's action regarding Smoot, asked unanimous consent that the case be considered June 11. Teller objected to fixing the time before the formal report is made, saying: "I don't propose to act in response to clamor." Unanimous consent being refused for fixing the day the discussion ended.

Commissioners Neill and Reynolds today handed their report on Chicago packing houses conditions to the president. It contains six thousand words.

Senator Long and Representative Curtis of Kansas expect word from Kansas today that Burton has presented his resignation from the senate to the governor who is expected to appoint either J. S. Dean, former district attorney, Rosco S. Stubbs, or "Dave" Mulvane of the republican national committee.

The rate bill conferees expect to reach an agreement today. Chairman Hepburn expects a report to be made to the house before today's adjournment.

The rate bill conferees agreed to eliminate the senate "Jim Crow" amendment.

The statehood bill conferees reached a final agreement and signed their report this afternoon. Oklahoma and Indian Territory are to be admitted as the state of Oklahoma and Arizona and New Mexico will decide each for itself whether or not they shall be united as one state.

Beveridge claims forty-two republican senators pledged to accept the report and he is confident there will be enough democrats to secure its adoption.

The senate passed a bill providing that supplies and equipment in building the Panama canal be purchased from American manufacturers and producers unless their bids are exorbitant.

ODD FELLOWS GO TO GRAND LODGE

List of Delegates From Cities In Southeastern Washington Who Leave Tonight for Seattle.

The delegates from southeastern Washington to the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which meets this year at Seattle, will leave Walla Walla tonight. A special Pullman sleeper has been provided for the delegation from Walla Walla, Dayton, Waitsburg, Dixie and Prescott and will be attached to the regular W. & C. R. passenger train tonight. While the car was secured principally for the Odd Fellows other persons desiring to take a berth can have the oportunity. The following is the list of the persons who will go to Seattle tonight.

Walla Walla—Mr. and Mrs. J. Carter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Peterson, Mrs. Amanda Colvin, matron of the Odd Fellows' home; J. M. Mulvaine, W. F. Marsh, Mrs. Lulu Schwarz, Mrs. Lydia Goodell and E. S. Isaacs.

Dixie—Mr. and Mrs. H. D Eldredge; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bolter

Prescott—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Spawr, Clois Plaquet.

Waitsburg—P. I. Ludwigs, Miss Anna Arnold.

Hamilton Is Released.

MADRID, June 2.—Robert Hamilton, the Englishman arrested on suspicion of being an accomplice of the anarchist bomb throwers was released this morning. He proved to be a tourist. A reception was substituted for the state ball today.

THOMSON SAYS HE HAS NOT RESIGNED

Seattle Engineer Arrives in Walla Walla Today and Denies Seattle Story in Toto—Left for Upper Mill Creek This Morning.

"No! Most emphatically no! I have not resigned. I never intended to and I do not expect to now." This is the way that Engineer Thomson denied the story coming from the Sound last week that he had been forced to give up his contract with Walla Walla as consulting engineer of the new water system, upon his arrival in Walla Walla from Seattle this morning.

It could be seen that any reference to the Times story that the Seattle council had intimated it would be healthy for him to resign his Walla Walla position did not set well with Engineer Thomson, but after the ice was broken, the Seattle engineer laughingly discussed the situation and declared that Walla Walla was a great place for stirring up rumpuses of all sorts and descriptions.

"I suppose these factional fights are necessary to the health of the politicians, but I believe that they are a bad thing for the town," Engineer Thomson said. "Outsiders look upon Walla Walla as a hotbed of factionalism and I believe these squabbles keep people away. No, I have not resigned as consulting engineer, notwithstanding reports to the contrary."

Engineer Thomson, accompanied by Water Register McLean, left for upper Mill creek at 10 o'clock this morning to inspect the new pipe line. He expected to return to the city some time this afternoon to meet with the water committee to discuss matters in connection with the work now in progress. The location of the reservoir site and filtering plants is expected to be decided upon at this time and other important matters connected with the work taken up and disposed of. Engineer Thomson made no reference to the resignation of Engineer Shotwell or whether or not another engineer would be employed to take his place, other than City Engineer Wilson, who is in charge of the work at present.

BRIBERY SCANDAL.

Tobacco Trust Agent Offers to Expose Legislators and Lobbyists.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 2.—Arthur L. Hughes, son-in-law of Oscar A. Baker, agent of the American Tobacco company, who tried to bribe the legislature to vote down the anti-cigarette bill, and who is now a fugitive, has offered to produce letters and other testimony, making sensational revelations of legislative bribery and corruption, providing Governor Hanley will promise immunity to Baker and permit him to return to the state. This Governor Hanley refuses to do. Hughes said today:

"Baker put me in possession of evidence that, if made public would boom the excursion business out of this city until legislators and hangers-on at the state capital would be mighty scarce. I have letters, ciphers and codes which expose an astounding state of depravity and show the purchase of public officials, men on the bench and ordinary servants of municipal corporations. One letter gives a list of legislative votes purchased and catalogues the legislators and their price. One man is appraised at $1,000, and from this they range down to $240.

"Baker was employed by the tobacco trust. He was also an employee of the insurance commission during the legislative session and he turned up a lot of nefarious work by the insurance organization. I know personally that most extreme measures were employed to head off hostile insurance legislation. The commission was shown fake decisions by supreme courts and conceived that their proposed legislation would be unconstitutional and an unnecessary expense to the state, in addition to making them ridiculous."

WILL REMEMBER THE DEAD

Woodmen of The World to Hold Memorial Services

AT CITY CEMETERY SUNDAY AFTERNOON

RITUALISTIC SERVICES WILL BE GIVEN AND GRAVES STREWN WITH FLOWERS.

The Woodmen of the World of Walla Walla will tomorrow celebrate their annual Memorial day. According to the usual custom the numbers of the local camp including the uniform rank will meet at the Odd Fellows' hall at 1:30 p. m. where a procession will be formed which will proceed to the city cemetery where the exercises will be held.

The regular ritualistic memorial services will be performed by the members of the order after which the graves of all deceased Woodmen will be strewn with flowers. The services are very impressive and no doubt a large number of Walla Walla citizens will be present to witness them.

A BOYCOTT HAS STARTED

People Urged To Use Home Products-Mayor Dunne Asks For Sanitary Commission

LONDON, June 2.—The British press is devoting space to the revelations affecting American meat packers and appeals are made to the British people to support home industry and to discourage the sale of American canned goods. Orders for large consignments of American canned meats have been either cancelled or reduced. The Times today made a bitter attack on the "Yankee meat bossses."

ROBERTS TELLS OF FLOOD

Great Amount of Damage Results From High Water

BEAUTY SPOTS WERE WIPED OUT

ENTIRE CHANNEL OF THE BIG STREAM CHANGED BY THE RAGING TORRENT.

Lee W. Roberts, owner of the Roberts ranch on the upper Walla Walla river returned last night from a trip to that section. Mr. Roberts says the effect of the flood that came down the river Wednesday beggars description and that it will be months before the damage wrought can be repaired.

"A picture of desolation was produced on the upper Walla Walla river by the recent flood and shows that the high water is such as only occurs once or twice during a lifetime," Mr. Roberts said this morning. "The beautiful road meandering up the river canyon through shady lanes and one of the favorite haunts for buggy and automobile drives, at the present time presents a sorry aspect.

"In places for hundreds of yards the wagon road is the centre of the main river channel. Now and again the river has washed away the road where it skirted a rocky bluff, making it impossible to pass with a vehicle. Every side canyon has poured out huge masses of rock burying the road many feet deep for a distance of about one hundred yards. In the center of these deposits the water has washed out great crevices making it hard to pass even with a horse.

"The entire river channel is completely changed and the fisherman who knew the good places will have to learn anew, as the present river is not the stream of yore. Near the Roberts ranch great black paths are torn out down the mountain sides taking rocks, brush and trees for many yards in width. The torrents swept everything in their path, leaving ugly black scars on the beautiful green mountain-sides. There are many of these places.

"The appalling force of these avalanches can be imagined when you notice that where they struck the river obliquely, huge boulders weighing tons and immense logs, huge roots and debris were forced across the raging river and thrown out over high banks upon the opposite shore.

"In several places these avalanches struck the flume and pipe line of the electric company and the splintered edges of the water conduit gives mute evidence of their power. The high water in this case was caused most entirely by the heavy downpour of rain instead of melting snow as is proven by the mighty torrents which poured into the river from defiles in the mountains where there was no snow While the picture presented on the river is one of desolation, and beautiful nature has been turned to extreme ugliness, the real damage is not great. A matter of $1500, or thereabouts, will be neccessary to repair the roads. The remainder of the damage was to fencing, irrigation ditches and the labor of removing debris from garden and fruit tracts.

Shoshone Reservation Opened.

REWARD HAS BEEN OFFERED

Daniel Hayes Will Give Sum of Fifty Dollars

FOR DISCOVERY OF CARROLL'S BODY

SEARCHING PARTY ORGANIZED TO CONTINUE SEARCH ALONG CREEK TOMORROW.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon no trace of John Carroll had been found. A few of his friends put in nearly all of the day in searching along the banks of Garrison creek, going down as far as the Harras slaughter house

It is now planned to dam up Garrison creek at its canfluence with Mill creek in order to run out the water. A large searching party will then go over the creek from the Carroll residence to where the creek empties into Mill creek again.

Last night Daniel Hayes, a brother-in-law of the missing man, offered a $50 reward for the discovery of Carroll's whereabouts dead or alive.

AUDITOR MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Business In Office Greatly Increased During Past Fiscal Year.

County Auditor Honeycutt has completed the work of tabulating the figures on the receipts of his office for the last fiscal year. According to the figures there was a big increase in the business transacted in the office over the previous year, the exact amount bing $968.05. This is a splendid showing for the county and is an indication that the population of the city and county is rapidly increasing. The figures for each month are as follows: June, 1905, $558; July, 1905, $338.95; August, 1905, $356.95; September, 1905, $578.45; October, 1905, $601.90; November, 1905, $670.15; December, 1905, $628.15; January, 1906, $509.75; February, 1906, $535.50; March, 1906, $532.75; April, 1906, $521.60; May, 1906, $545.75; Total, $6,371.90. Total for previous fiscal year, $5,409.85.

COL. GREENE'S MINES BESIEGED BY MEXICANS

ARMED AMERICANS GO TO RESCUE

War Department Refuses to Allow United States Troops to Cross the Border Into Mexico—Late Report Says Americans Are in Control.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 2.—A special from Bisbee says Col. W. C. Greene was killed at Cananca last night. Governor Zzadel is on the scene with troops, but shooting continues from both sides. It is believed that about sixty Americans have already been killed and several times that number of Mexicans.

Striking Mexicans attacked the miners and attempted to blow them up with dynamite. They also attacked the homes of Americans.

Government Considering the Matter.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Major Potts reports from Bisbee asking the war department to confirm his action in starting troops for the Mexican border, and asking further instructions. Secretary of War Taft and Chief of Staff Bell are consulting regarding the matter.

Consul Galbraith has sent the following message to the state department from Nace, Arizona: "Send assistance immediately to Cananea. The American citizens are being murdered and their property dynamited and we must have help." A second dispatch: "It is imperative that assistance be rendered to American citizens at Cananea." Copies of Galbraith's messages were sent to Ambasador Thompson at Mexico City in connection with instructions to him.

The war department has sent a message to Fort Huachuaca, ordering the recall of any American soldiers that may have proceeded into Mexico. Secretary Root believes that the United States cannot send troops into Mexico. The government has requested the Mexican government to authorize the use of American troops in quelling the Cananea riots and Mexico is asked to protect American citizens.

American Volunteers Start.

BISBEE, Arizona, June 2.—In response to a call from Colonel Greene at Cananea, Mexico, where Americans are engaged in a bloody fight with Mexicans, five hundred armed men left here at midnight to join the governor of Sonora, who is enroute from Hermosillo. The United States troops called for by the American consul at Cananea are awaiting orders from the war department.

Americans in Control.

El Paso, Texas, June 2.—Mexican Consul Mallen admits that the situation in Cananea is serious but says that only two Americans, the Metcalfs, were killed. Mallen says that Americans are in control and are parading the strets heavily armed.

PURE VANADIUM IS DISCOVERED

May Revolutionize Making of Steel and Iron—The Standard Oil "In," of Course.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 2.—What promises to revolutionize the making of iron and steel is the recent discovery of large deposits of almost pure vanadium in Peru, South America. It is reported Standard Oil interests are identified with the company which has secured concessions from the Peruvian government.

Longworths Sail for Europe.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Pune 2.—Congressman and Mrs. Longworth sailed for Europe on the St. Louis at 9:30 this morning. There was no curious crowd. They boarded the vessel last night.

HUNT MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

Petition Being Signed by Businessmen and Taxpayers Requesting Chief Executive to Make Race Again for the Mayoralty

If Mayor Hunt accedes to the demand of a large number of representative businessmen and taxpayers of Walla Walla, he will become a candidate for re-election as chief executive of this city.

A petition was prepared this morning addressed to the mayor asking that he become a candidate for re-election. It was in circulation on the streets this afternoon and was being signed by a great many taxpayers and voters.

When seen this afternoon by a representative from the Evening Statesman Mayor Hunt said relative to the matter: "It had been my intention to retire at the end of my present term, as I have felt for some time in the past that I had served the citizens long enough, and desired to give up public life and devote all my energies to my private affairs. But if the citizens of Walla Walla desire that I make another run for the office, I suppose I will have to comply with their wishes. I have not seen the petition as yet and until it is presented to me I cannot definitely announce what course I will pursue."

McKean Mentioned.

Quite a number of the friends of Councilman McKean have during the past two days been urging him to become a candidate for the mayoralty, but he declined to enter the field this morning and was one of the first to sign the petition calling on Mayor Hunt to become a candidate.
